Negotiations For A New Agreement Are Set To Commence

Under the Fair Work Act, Queensland Motorways Ltd & Flow Tolling management must issue you with a 'Right To Representation Notice'. This notice conveys your rights as an employee in the bargaining process.

Your Union, the ASU, is automatically the bargaining representative for ASU members. So if you are already a member you do not need to take any action upon receipt of the Right To Representation Notice. If you are not yet a member of ASU and you want the best possible workplace conditions, then you should join up today. Please use the form on the back of this survey.

For Flow Tolling staff there will be a number of steps to be undertaken to ensure a smooth transition for you across to the new conditions. Now is the time to ensure that your rights are protected and to join your colleagues for better wages and conditions.

Below is a short and confidential introductory survey to assist your ASU Delegates to better understand the workplace conditions that matter the most to you and your colleagues. Please complete and return to the person who gave you the survey or email to the address at the end of this document.
