

Update on Agreement Negotiations at Maurice Blackburn

On Tuesday 8 May, all delegates from around Australia will be in Melbourne to participate in a full day of negotiations with Maurice Blackburn management representatives. This will give the Delegates, the Union and the Firm an opportunity to discuss all the claims and hopefully try and make real progress on the issues which then can be considered by members.

We are approaching this meeting positively and your delegates are really looking forward to being in the same room for the first time. We are expecting a long day negotiating.

This meeting would not have been possible without the support of ASU members, who expressed their preference for face to face negotiations involving all delegates from around Australia.

In the week following this meeting, the ASU will hold meetings with members across Australia. This will give members up to date information about the outcomes from the meeting and the ability to determine what the negotiators do next. It is vital that all members express their views by attending these meetings as this will help ensure that any final agreement is truly reflective of what you as a group want to achieve.

Again - Thank you and congratulations to all members who have demonstrated that by standing together we can achieve positive outcomes.
