

Bargaining Update

On Monday 28 May, 2012 your union representatives and Delegates met with QNU management in an attempt to finalise the outstanding matters relating to the proposed Agreement .

This meeting also discussed the proposed nine day compressed fortnight and the concerns raised by members at the last member meeting, along with concerns that your union representatives held in relation to the proposal.

After much discussion it was agreed that the union would provide QNU management with an alternative clause that was reflective of the feedback from the members.

This clause was provided to the QNU management yesterday morning. When we receive the QNU's feedback we will be organising another members' meeting to discuss their response and the next steps in relation to the Agreement process.
